Astronaut's First Journey Expected Tuesday Morning

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A keenly trained American will try to get some sleep tonight knowing that in the morning he may rocket into space.

Sometime after dawn he may be strapped into space capsule atop a relatively puny rocket.

Perhaps 100 minutes later the Redstone rocket will fling him 115 miles up and 290 miles south over the Atlantic. The experts say the odds are 100 to 1 that he will come through without harm.

This Redstone is less than a tenth as powerful as the monster rocket that shot Yuri Gagarin, Soviet army major, on a space trip around the world in 105 minutes last month.

Still, this is the first relatively safe step in a program that will — before the year is out — give an American the same thrilling ride around the globe.

The space pilot himself knows there is some risk involved, says a source close to the astronaut. But for a man with experience it is an accustomed risk.

Fabulous steps have been taken to insure the space pilot's safety. Anything that might fail in the space capsule comes in duplicates, so that one will always be in service.

The countdown has begun on the rocket and men are readying it for flight.

Two possible space pilots whose names are still secret are being prepared for the trip. One of them will go. One will be on the ready, should something — even a slight cold — disqualify the first.

The chosen two were picked from three known names: John Herschel Glenn Jr., a Marine Corps lieutenant colonel from New Concord, Ohio; Alan Bartlett Shepard Jr., a Navy commander from East Derry, N. H.; and Virgil Ivan Grissom, an Air Force captain from Mitchell, Ind.

The day of the shot, two of these men will get up at 2:30 a. m., shower and shave in their secluded quarters in Hangar S, 15 minutes away from the waiting rocket.

It will be a busy morning, with a physical examination, and the complicated process of getting into the space suit.

The suit itself is an example of the double safety standards taken for the astronauts. This suit will be filled with pure oxygen. If the space capsule is damaged and won't hold air, the space suit

Red Capitals Note May Day

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

May Day was turned into a political celebration today in Communist capitals. Festivities in Moscow set the pace for the traditional workers' holiday by featuring Maj. Yuri A. Gagarin, the Soviet astronaut.

Gagarin stood alongside Premier Khrushchev on the Red Square reviewing stand to watch a three-hour parade, only nine minutes of which was taken up with a military show.

Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, Soviet defense minister, boasted of the "most up-to-date means of warfare" for the Soviet armed forces. Gagarin also praised the Communist system in a broadcast.

Peiping radio reported three million Chinese turned out for rallies in the Communist capital. Foreign Minister Chen Yi appealed for greater unity at home and in "the Socialist camp of the international Communist movement."

Cubans turned out for rallies to hail what Prime Minister Fidel Castro now calls his "Socialist" revolution. Moscow awarded the Cuban prime minister a Lenin peace prize in time for the celebration.

Ernesto Guevara, Cuban economic chief, outlined a four-year plan to develop the island republic's resources and said it would depend heavily on support from Communist countries.

In Berlin, another potential East-West point of conflict, goosestepping soldiers and Soviet tanks paraded in the Communist sector of the city in defiance of a Big Four agreement barring German tanks in the divided city.

Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin told a rally of an estimated 700,000 that the Communist military demonstration "is no expression of what the German nation wants." His voice was carried across the East-West border by loudspeakers.

President Tito reviewed a 3½-hour parade in Belgrade marking the 20th anniversary of Yugoslavia's revolution, which was

Solon Raises Question on Camp Perry

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some congressmen have been debating whether the government should pay $150,000 a year for the next four years to rent Camp Perry, Ohio, for the national rifle matches.

Generally, they have raised objection to the idea — except that Rep. George W. Andrews, D-Ala., said it "looked like a pretty good rent" until it was explained to him.

The topic was discussed at a recent closed-door hearing of a House appropriations subcommittee.

This, as Army officers explained it, would be the deal:

To lease Camp Perry as a permanent site for the national rifle matches, the government would pay $150,000 for four years and $50,000 during the next 21 years.

The extra $400,000 paid in the first four years would be used to rehabilitate the former prisoner of war camp. Ohio will pay $200,000 for the rehabilitation.

Despite the occasional complaint though, the plan drew general approval. The congressmen generally agreed it is worth spending money to train riflemen in an age of Hitler.

The wife will watch the firing on television at her home in Arlington, Va.

Glen's mother and father also plan to be in front of their television set. They have been reading every newspaper report from Canaveral.

"I feel very confident," said Mrs. Glenn, referring to the prospect of success of the space flight. She said she refuses to let herself think of the hazards involved in the historic undertaking.

Miss Chung Nian-mei of Hsiunglin, northern Formosa, offered her disappointed husband her entire savings, equivalent to $37.50, for an uncontested divorce, which in Formosa is easily arranged if there is mutual consent.

The husband agreed.

Castro Pleased As Cubans Stage March

May Day Theme Is: "Toward Union of All Workers of World"

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — A smiling Fidel Castro looked on with obvious pleasure today while masses of Cubans marched and sang in what was described as the first May Day celebration in the Western Hemisphere "with the working class in power."

The bearded Cuban prime minister watched thousands of his countrymen troop through an "arch of triumph" topped with a big white peace dove and the legend:

"Toward the union of all the workers of the world."

A Havana telecast picked up here showed Castro scanning the throng with a pair of field glasses, smoking his ever present cigar and chatting and smiling with others on the reviewing stand.

Huge banners bore pictures of Castro and Karl Marx, founder of communism.

Castro, like many others at the gigantic rally, wore a big red kerchief around his neck.

Six television cameras showed floats and banners with slogans lashing the United States as an imperialistic aggressor and the Catholic Church as the "parrot of imperialism."

Commentators said the Soviet Union's ambassador to Cuba was among the dignitaries with Castro on the presidential reviewing stand.

The act sets up a federal loan and grant program to try to attract industries into areas which have lost their main economic support and to retrain workers with obsolete skills.

It is aimed squarely at such situations as are found in hard hit coal railroad and textile towns in states like West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

The bill authorizes:

$394 million in loan funds for plants and other facilities, including machinery and equipment in some cases, in depressed industrial areas.

$100 million in loans for the same purposes in low-income rural areas.

$4.5 million for retaining workers in depressed areas.

$10 million for subsistence payments to workers undergoing re-training.

$4.5 million for technical help to communities in planning redevelopment programs.

The $300 million in loan funds would be obtained through direct advances from the Treasury. These would be revolving funds which could be used over as loans are repaid.

The grant money would come through the regular appropriations process.

The plant loans could run for as long as 25 years, the public facility loans for 40. Under the formulas in the bill, plant loans would carry an interest rate of about 4½ per cent, public facility loans 3½ per cent.

The federal plant loans would be limited to 65 per cent of the cost of a redevelopment project. At least 10 per cent would have to come from a state or local community, and at least 5 per cent from a nongovernmental source.

Ohio Boy Wins Leadership Test

LAWRENCE, Mass. (AP) — Cornelius A. Dolby, 18, of Warren, Ohio, was named Sunday as a third place winner of the National Youth Leadership contest sponsored by the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

For Dolby, a past state official of Buckeye Boys State, the award was double recognition. Saturday he was named top winner of the Ohio Elks Youth Leadership contest. He received a $300 bond from the Elks for his national showing.

A high school senior, he plans to attend Iowa State University in the fall.

Younger Brother Shunned by Bride

TAIEI, Formosa (AP) — A bride walked out on her husband on their wedding night because he was not the handsome man to whom she had been introduced by a matchmaker. He turned out to be the supposed groom's younger brother whom she described as plain ugly.

Miss Chung Nian-mei of Hsiunglin, northern Formosa, offered her disappointed husband her entire savings, equivalent to $37.50, for an uncontested divorce, which in Formosa is easily arranged if there is mutual consent.

The husband agreed.

U.S. Studies Its Next Laos Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy called in the National Security Council again today to weigh a more active role for the United States in strife-torn Laos.

Presumably, Kennedy and his top military and diplomatic advisers will consider the possibility of U.S. and allied military intervention as a means of countering Communist advances in Laos and elsewhere in Southeast Asia.

Any intervention would be made through the Southeast Asia Treaty Alliance.

This is the fourth session for the top strategy group within 10 days. It last met Saturday.

There was a chance tension in Laos would be eased by the time Kennedy met with his advisers in late afternoon. The State Department was studying with interest news dispatches from Laos which told of a rebel-backed cease-fire offer.

There was no official comment in Washington, but one official said privately the move by Prince Souvanna Phouma is "encouraging—if true."

The dispatches said Souvanna, who is recognized as premier by the Communists, had proposed a meeting of military leaders on the front north of Vientiane, the capital.

A white flag mission Saturday failed to establish contact with the rebels.

There were no reports of strong military action Sunday. Saturday, strong anti-government forces struck at Ban Keun, the last large town north of Vientiane.

While it remained in doubt whether a cease-fire formula could be worked out, the United States canceled the airlift of some 6,000 troops to Europe for a planned NATO exercise.

U.S. armed forces appeared to be preparing for any role they may be called on to play in Southeast Asia or elsewhere. They were doing it in a tight-down secrecy equalled only in wartime.

Kennedy cut short his weekend rest in the Virginia countryside Sunday to review the Laotian crisis with top government officials.

An announcer said the people of Havana had been celebrating all night and that "it reminds one of New Year's Eve."

Few military weapons were seen in the parade. It had been announced that troops were being kept on the alert against the possibility of another invasion such as the one Castro's regime crushed last week.

A Havana newspaper was quoted as saying an effigy of President Kennedy would be burned at the rally. The report said Kennedy would be represented as a Statue of Liberty dressed in a Ku Klux Klan robe and carrying a torch in the right hand and a crown of cannons on his head topped by a vulture and a Nazi swastika.

Simultaneously with the Havana rally, Castro's brother Raoul, who heads the Cuban armed forces, will speak at another rally at Santiago de Cuba, the island's second largest city.

The May Day celebrations follow a massive, weeklong dose of anti-American propaganda and an equally concentrated ration of prises for the virtues of socialism.

The grant money would come through the regular appropriations process.

The plant loans could run for as long as 25 years, the public facility loans for 40. Under the formulas in the bill, plant loans would carry an interest rate of about 4½ per cent, public facility loans 3½ per cent.

Ohio Utilities' 'Honesty' Eyed

Ohio Assembly Probe Is Sought by Solon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Demands for investigation of alleged utility rate dishonesty are due for an airing at a special meeting of the Ohio House Rules Committee tonight.

First-term Rep. Richard M. Christiansen, D-Richland, called for the inquiry on the basis of a letter he said George B. Quatman of Lima, head of 16 Ohio telephone firms, admitted writing to a New York utility broker.

The letter termed election of a Republican-controlled legislature a repudiation of what Quatman called an anti-utility policy of Democratic state administrations. Christiansen has declined to say how he came by the letter but indicated he might tell the committee.

A section of Quatman's letter carried in the probe resolution made this observation about applications for approval of gas, electric and telephone rates by the Public Utilities Commission:

"... The utilities now, instead of being honest with their contentions on rate base, inflate them, knowing they are going to be pulled down."

Christiansen said he hoped for widespread publicity on the situation but House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, chairman of the powerful Rules Committee, observed that he had no intention of making a production out of the hearing.

Sessions of the Rules Committee usually are closed but Cloud said the hearing would be open. It will follow the start of the legislature's 18th work week.

Christiansen and Joseph Quatman, attorney for a Lima-based firm directing 16 Ohio phone companies, have been asked to testify.

The hearing turned a spotlight on two pending bills to change Ohio's utility rate-making formula. Opponents will testify during the week at hearings of the House Elections and Federal Relations Committee. Proponents were heard last week.

Both houses of the legislature convene at 4:30 p.m. for a busy week as sessions head toward a stretch drive. Committee chairmen, wrestling with heavy hearing schedules, are under admonition by Republican leaders to point for mid-June adjournment.

NEW YORK (AP) — Aircraft missile shares were fairly strong in a mixed stock market early this afternoon. Trading was slack.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at 242.50 with industrials up .30, rails off .20 and utilities off .10.

Steels and motors had an edge to the upside while losses were shown by rubbers, some airlines, tobaccos and drugs. Most change were small, a few going to a point or so. Oils, nonferrous metals, and chemicals were mixed.

McDonnell Aircraft, advanced more than a point in brisk dealings. Boeing was up a fraction.

American Hospital Supply fell more than 5 points at the opening. Later it clipped the loss to a point or so.

Republic aviation advanced more than a point.

Union Carbide spurted 2 points. American Telephone declined more than a point.

Brunswick and Zenith each lost around a point.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .55 at 679.60.

Corporate bonds were firm. U.S. government bonds were unchanged.

Area Man Bound To Grand Jury

An area man was bound to the September session of the Pickaway County Grand Jury today in Circleville Municipal Court on a charge of defrauding with intent.

Teddy Lee Prushing, Derby, was held for the jury under a $500 bond set by Judge Sterling Lamb. The defendant pleaded guilty.

The affidavit stated Prushing issued a $22.60 check to a linen supply Co., on the First National Bank, Circleville, and that he issued the check knowing that he did not have funds to cover the amount of the check deposited in the bank.

Charges were filed by Howard Lavelle, an official of the linen company in Columbus.

HONORED — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oesterle of the Pickaway Grain Co., were among approximately 100 dealers of the Ralston Purina Co., and their wives who were honored by Purina at a three-day meeting of the fourth President's Honor Council in April at the Barbizon-Plaza Hotel in New York City. They are shown here receiving the congratulations of Raymond E. Rowland, president of the Ralston Purina Co., as he presents them with a special plaque signifying the honor. Membership on the President's Honor Council is the highest honor Purina awards to its top dealers. Their activities while in New York included tours of the city and of the harbor area, attending a hit Broadway play and dining in some of the city's famous restaurants.

Steel May Be Taking Lead In Climb Out of Recession

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's biggest industry — steel — appears to be leading the way out of the recession.

Its output is going up steadily and industry leaders are optimistic about the future.

Production chalked up its sixth consecutive weekly increase, rising 2.1 per cent last week to 1,784,000 tons. It was the greatest total since the week ended May 28, 1960.

Output for April is estimated at 7.5 million tons, biggest since last May.

The increasing demand for steel caused plants to fire up additional furnaces and call back more idle workers. For example, in the Buffalo, N.Y., area, unemployment among steelworkers was being cut by 100 men a day.

"As it stands now, the steel industry is close to equilibrium," said the trade publication, Iron Age. "The rate of incoming orders, steelmaking operations and the rate of consumption are all in balance around 60 per cent."

Roger Blough, chairman of U.S. Steel Corp., said: "We seem to have reached bottom in February. We're hoping for some improvement in May. Confidence with respect to the economic situation is improving."

The automobile industry is showing signs of joining steel in the climb although its production slipped last week from the previous week.

Output totaled 115,000 passenger cars, down from 124,607. However, production for April is estimated at 448,000 cars, compared with 408,539 in March.

Ford Motor Co. increased its second-quarter production schedules for the third time in six weeks. The company now plans to build 496,000 cars in April, May and June, a 51 per cent increase over the first quarter.

New car sales in the middle 10 days of April were encouraging.

The total of 164,839 domestic cars represented the best daily selling rate for a midmonth period since November. There also were good reports on sales of used cars.

This was report card week for many of the nation's big businesses. A lot of grades weren't up to par but most firms expected to do better next semester.

The occasion was a rash of annual meetings at which earnings for the first quarter of this year were announced.

Declines from earnings levels of the 1960 first quarter were particularly sharp in the steel and automobile industries, which were operating full blast at that time last year to catch up after the steel strike.

However, there were bright spots among the earnings reports. Among companies with substantial gains were Colgate-Palmolive Co., Cities Service Co., Socony Mobil Oil Co., Gulf Oil Corp. and American Tobacco Co.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said "we're still not out of the woods" on the unemployment problem as he reported an increase in April in the number of smaller areas suffering from substantial unemployment. The number of these areas went up from 184 to 199.

In an effort to alleviate the problem, the House passed President Kennedy's $394 million bill to aid depressed areas.

He's Rather Young To Be Night Owl

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP) — It was a shock when Mrs. Paul Nethers heard her phone ring at 4:38 a.m. It was an even greater shock when a voice told her:

"This is the police. We are holding your son."

"You're kidding," Mrs. Nethers finally blurted. But the police sergeant wasn't fooling, the boy's bedroom was empty.

All concerned, including the popular motorist who found the Nethers boy padding down the middle of Ohio 3 in his flannel footed sleepers, figured he was a little young to be a night owl. He's 20 months old.

Cost of Brides Too High So Israel Arab Males Steal 'Em

By ERIC PATTERSON
Central Press Association
Correspondent

TEL AVIV, Israel — Young Bedouin Lochinvars are riding out of the East, in jeeps instead of on stout steeds, on frequent kidnapping forays because Arab brides are costing so much in Israel these days.

Riled and financially hard-up, other young suitors have organized a society dedicated to financing and encouraging elopement.

The society claims that it has the support of bachelors in dozens of Arab villages. It aids eloping couples by providing them with money and hideaways from families. The society also gives loans to finance the first shaky months of marital ventures.

The young Arab revolt was sparked by the fact that an attractive bride here costs $2,000 to $3,000. Costs in neighboring Arab countries where brides are more abundant are lower.

Moslem religious leaders first appealed to parents to check the bridal cost - index spiral, which has been on the rise for years — but nothing happened.

So the bachelors stepped in and took things into their own hands. They hope their movement eventually will break the dowry system which originally was a symbolic gesture but now is big business amongst Israel's 150,000 Moslems and countless millions in other Arab lands.

One lucky Arab orange picker was saved the trouble of applying for society aid when his Israel National Lottery ticket came up. He picked a pretty, olive-eyed, 16-year-old village girl for his bride some time ago; but the prospective pa-in-law set a price of $1,700 before he would even look at a marriage contract.

The lottery ticket drew first prize, a new auto. The orange picker was able to sell it and "live happily ever after."

Not so fortunate was the young Bedouin who already had made a down payment on his bride when she died. He and his father later raided the tribal encampment of the late girl's father and swept off her sister just after her 14th birthday.

The angry father of the girl got a supreme court order issued — the first of its kind on record — demanding the return of the girl.

The abducted girl's father stated that, earlier, offers had been made for her by the same Bedouin who had finally agreed that 14 was too young for marriage.

Church Group Stages Dinner

Food for Thought!

DEAR ABBY: I had an experience the other day which greatly disturbed me. While sitting in my car eating my lunch, a little girl (about 4 years old) came up to my car and asked me to take her for a ride. You can well imagine what tragedy could have resulted had she approached the wrong type of man. When will parents realize that they MUST train their children not to speak to strangers, and even to run away if approached? Many little ones would be alive today or spared a terrible experience had they been so trained.

GORDON Y.

DEAR GORDON: Most parents DO train their children never to talk to strangers, and certainly not to go for "rides" with them. But because some parents may need to be reminded again, I will print your very worthy letter. Thank you for writing.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my deceased mother-in-law. When my husband was in Germany for a year, he bought a complete dinner set. It cost almost $100. He gave it to his mother, not thinking of the sweetheart he would meet one day.

Then he met me. I was invited to his home for dinner many times. His mother would never mention that dinner set. I always thought she was saving it for me, because I mentioned how much I liked it.

When I married, she still didn't give it to me. Now she is dead and the dinner set is in the home of my husband's sister. I don't know how she got it, but it is there. I think that since it was bought with my husband's money, I should have the set. How can I get it without appearing grasping?

NOT GRASPING

DEAR NOT: If you are "Not Grasping," I don't know how better to describe your attitude. Your husband bought this set for his mother. Had she wanted you to have it, she would have given it to you, or made provisions for your having it eventually. Quit coveting, and use your energies for more important things.

DEAR ABBY: I am an Alaskan girl who just read your book DEAR TEEN-AGER. Several of my friends have borrowed it and we have all enjoyed it very much. You have such a witty way of setting advice for "teens" on paper. In your chapter "How Late is

Culinary Charmers

SUNDAY EVENING SNACK

Club Sandwiches
Turkish Cream Beverage
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
2 egg yolks
1/4 cup milk
8 ounces cream cheese
2 tablespoons confectioners sugar
1 teaspoon each grated orange rind and vanilla
1/2 pint plain yogurt
1/2 cup flaked coconut
Orange sections and frozen strawberries

Soften gelatin in cold water in top of double boiler; stir over hot water to dissolve. Blend slightly beaten yolks with milk; add to softened gelatin. Cook and stir constantly over gently boiling water until mixture coats silver spoon; cool. Stir cheese with sugar, orange rind and vanilla; gradually stir in yogurt, keeping smooth. Slowly stir in cooled gelatin mixture. Chill until thickened—about 20 minutes. Beat until smooth—about 5 minutes; fold in coconut. Turn into 1 large or 6 individual dessert dishes; chill until set. Add membrane-free sections from 3 oranges to a package of thawed frozen sliced strawberries; serve as a sauce with the Turkish Cream. Makes 6 servings.

Yes, Abby will answer your letter personally if you write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Wife Preservers

To avoid forgetting to put relishes, cream and sugar, etc., on the table when entertaining, set aside in the kitchen all the dishes you will use for them; then just check to see that you've filled them.

For ordinary family service, dessert silver may be put on the table. At formal luncheons or dinners, however, this flat silver is brought to the table with the dessert.

Cadet Stucker Makes Tour Of West Point

Cadet Ronald E. Stucker, Circleville, was one of several outstanding ROTC students completing a recent four-day tour of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y.

Cadet Stucker, 21, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Stucker 568 Woodland Drive. He is a 1957 graduate of Circleville High School.

Stucker is a member of the Reserve Officers Training Corps at Ohio State University. Cadet Terry J. Firestone, Columbus, was an OSU companion on the tour.

The annual visit to West Point involves outstanding cadets from various colleges and universities. The tour helps familiarize cadets with the mission of the academy.

Businessmen Are Warned On 'Misdeeds'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Misdeeds of a few businessmen can blemish the whole free enterprise system, U. S. Chamber of Commerce President Arthur H. Motley said today.

It is not the chamber's function to enforce the antitrust laws, Motley said in an address prepared for the opening of the organization's 49th annual meeting here.

But he told 3,000 business delegates:

"Our free market economic system demands protection against such violations as the recently exposed price fixing conspiracy among electrical equipment manufacturers."

"Competition must be maintained," said Motley, publisher of Parade magazine. "The antitrust laws are a proper form of government regulation and those laws must be obeyed."

"Violations should be punished, and all businessmen should recognize that even the relatively few misdeeds of this nature tend to weaken the whole economic system and make it harder to defend against those who want to change it," he said.

Motley said many of his friends have asked "why doesn't the chamber do something about these price fixers?"

Enforcement and punishment in the antitrust field is the function of the Justice Department and the courts, he said.

Primary Poll Reminder Given

Great Care Is Urged In Tuesday Election

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Tuesday's primary elections are the subject of some reminders from two state officials.

In his information bulletin to election officials and others, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown comments:

"The primary election, affecting about two-thirds of our boards of election, should be given the greatest care in its supervision."

"Unfortunately, the odd year elections are not as well attended by the voters and sometimes their importance is minimized. The fact remains that not only are they important because of the selection of persons who will manage local government . . . but often in these local elections extra dangers of irregularity exist."

Richard C. Crouch, state director of liquor control, pointed out that all state monopoly liquor stores and agencies, and permit holders selling high-powered beer, wine, mixed drinks or spirituous liquor at retail will be closed in areas where elections are to be held.

State law says alcoholic beverages may not be sold retail from an hour before until an hour after the polls close. However, a 1959 change allows wholesale sales of all alcoholic beverages on election days, and 3.2 beer also may be sold by those with permits to do so.

Communities where there is no election Tuesday of course are not affected.

Regular sale of all beverages can be made after 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Crouch added.

Brown, in his bulletin, amplified the remark about "irregularity" by adding:

"Sometimes the intra-party contests develop into more heated situations than those between the two political parties and often result in irregularities as a result of overzealous friends trying to help a friend who is seeking party nomination. That has been the history of the controversies, irregularities and actual cases of fraud which we have been called upon to investigate."

"Happily, irregularities have been held to a bare minimum in recent years . . ."

23 Days of Rain Fall On Cleveland in April

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland will be a horticulturist's paradise this month—if the saying "April showers bring May flowers" has any basis in fact. It rained here 23 days in April. The monthly total of 6.61 inches was more than twice normal and topped the 20-year high of 5.9 inches.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — McKay Machine Co. has announced plans to build a $3.5 million plant and general office building in Wickliffe near Cleveland. It is designed to increase efficiency of production facilities here.

There's really nothing mysterious about a prescription. It's merely a message from the doctor to the pharmacist, giving him very explicit instructions about the medicine he wants you to have. Next time you have one filled, ask your pharmacist to explain to you the steps he follows, whether it's for a simple remedy or a long, involved formula. The accuracy check on each ingredient, the careful attention to instructions, the rechecks, the proper blending—they're the same in either case.

This is the pharmacist's prime responsibility—seeing that your physician's directions are carried out to the letter. He trained for this in college (he's the only store owner in town who's required to have a degree) and continually pledges himself to protect your and your family's health through accuracy and thoroughness. This is one job where the hand is not quicker than the eye.

New Star Likely To Be Born On Release of Recent Film

By ARMAND ARCHERD
Central Press Association
Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — A new star is likely to be born on the release of a recent film, "Claudelle Inglish." Or so we heard when visiting the set. And the girl to whom today's Cinderella story is happening is Diane McBain.

Diane is Cleveland-born, moved to Glendale, Calif., with her parents when she was four. Her poppa is as far from show biz as you could hope to cast a line—he's a salesman for a fishing equipment firm.

You've seen Diane in television as the gal who darts in and out of the "Surfside 6" series in very pleasant fashion as society girl Daphne Dutton. However, let's face it, the Daphne role made no taxing demands on her acting ability.

When boss Jack Warner announced he was filming "Claudelle Inglish," the would-be stars on the Burbank lot — plus all around Glamorville — vowed they'd give their proverbial eyeteeth for the title role. They saw from the script that it's the kind of part which can springboard 'em to stardom!

Well, the boys in Glendale who might have had Miss McBain as a teacher will just have to suffer through watching her on film, rather than "live" in the classroom. She was nabbed from a future as a teacher when agent Bill Barnes spotted her on a modeling job.

The studio, as we said, bounced her from one series to another, then gave her a small role in "Ice Palace." And, as in the "old" days when stars were built by moving from one film to another, the studio felt the need for new names, gave Diane the break. She warmed up for "Claudelle" via a role in "Parrish" opposite Troy Donahue. Now — why it's up to Diane — and us, the moviegoers.

How about some advice to those who dream about the same Cinderella story, Diane? What would you tell a star-struck teenager? "Don't come to Hollywood," she said. "Unless you bring your mother or some guardian. No, it's not because of any 'Hollywood wolves.' It's because the first months in Hollywood are dreadfully discouraging to a girl trying to gain a foothold as an actress and she

A test of Diane was enough to convince the studio that the relatively inexperienced girl could handle the role under the guidance of veteran director Gordon Douglas. And now, they hope that gamble pays off.

"She has the rare ability to become the person she is portraying," said Douglas. Accomplished

This is a piece of paper. In 10 minutes, it will be a bottle of medicine. But it's not slight of hand that changes one into the other. It's a careful, methodical system of checks and balances.

There's really nothing mysterious about a prescription. It's merely a message from the doctor to the pharmacist, giving him very explicit instructions about the medicine he wants you to have. Next time you have one filled, ask your pharmacist to explain to you the steps he follows, whether it's for a simple remedy or a long, involved formula. The accuracy check on each ingredient, the careful attention to instructions, the rechecks, the proper blending—they're the same in either case.

This is the pharmacist's prime responsibility—seeing that your physician's directions are carried out to the letter. He trained for this in college (he's the only store owner in town who's required to have a degree) and continually pledges himself to protect your and your family's health through accuracy and thoroughness. This is one job where the hand is not quicker than the eye.

Postmaster General Sees Rate Hike Coming

CINCINNATI (AP) — J. Edward Day, U. S. postmaster general, says he believes the rate increases asked of Congress will be approved. He said Sunday night "There is strong support in both houses of Congress for doing something about the fact we have the largest deficit in the history of the postal service." Day was here for ceremonies to break ground for a new $8.5 million postal annex.

Fledgling Phi Beta Kappas Detail Secrets of Success

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—What does it take to become a Phi Beta Kappa?

Expert answers come from eight juniors initiated into the scholastic honorary society in ceremonies in the Faculty Club.

The eight, and their major fields, are: Collin Grisseeau, Dayton, genetics; Corwin Robinson, Mansfield, physics; David Meyer, New Carlisle, zoology; Barbara McKim, Newark, genetics; Dale Williams, Port Clinton, history; Renee Sherrow, South Euclid, French; David Smith, West Carrollton, physics, and Marilyn Goldman, Sedalia, Mo., psychology.

As a group, they have many things in common. They all belonged to the National Honor Society in high school. They mark their text books, take thorough notes and rarely cut classes. They have time for extra-curricular activities.

Each feels that the key to success in college is a realistic study schedule.

"Every minute that I'm not eating, sleeping, dating or in activities, I'm hitting the books," Miss Sherrow said. This year she has been business manager of the yearbook, spending approximately 15 hours a week fulfilling this responsibility.

Unlike the others who average eight hours of sleep a night, Miss Goldman saves time by cutting hours from her sleep. She averages five hours a night. For her this is sufficient, she added.

"It's something I'm conditioned to," she added. "I've been doing it since high school."

Father-Son Brokerage Team Accused of Rigging Market

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government lawyers have charged that thousands of investors suffered "many millions of dollars of harm" because of alleged market rigging and other illegal acts by two prominent members of the American Stock Exchange.

The two, Jerry and Gerard Re, did not contest the charges and directly challenged only some sections of the evidence against them. They argued through their attorneys that Gerard Re was dominated by his father, Jerry, and should not receive as severe punishment as the elder Re.

Attorneys for the Securities and Exchange Commission filed a 98-page brief with the full commission detailing a year-long investigation of the Res.

The brief said the Res were exchange specialists conducting the daily auctions in about 20 stocks.

It said their operations "resulted in many millions of dollars of harm to thousands of unsuspecting investors who had every reason to expect that the exchange market in which they dealt was free and fair."

Pending a commission decision in the case, the Res have been suspended by the exchange, the second largest in New York City and the nation, with an annual trading volume of about $4 billion.

The SEC brief said the Res were guilty of market manipulation on a scale larger than the biggest past cases in the agency's 26-year history.

In addition to rigging, the Res were accused of other "deliberate, numerous and gross" violations including the illegal sales between 1954 and 1960 of nearly $10 million in stocks of nine corporations.

The SEC brief also cited sworn testimony or documentary evidence to the effect that:

The Res used some of the members of the exchange to create the appearance of activity in stocks allegedly rigged. These members were floor traders who speculate with their own funds; that

High Prices Bring Divers Back to Darnley Deeps

By ARTHUR SCHOLES
Central Press Association

Correspondent
THURSDAY ISLAND, Australia — With pearl shell bringing between $1,200 and $1,500 a ton, Thursday Island divers are returning to the dreaded Darnley Deeps.

Three hundred feet down at the bottom of the Darnley Deeps old diving helmets roll and drift. Helmets are worth at least $250, but no diver ever retrieves one. They say they are haunted by the souls of the men who have lost their lives in the Deeps.

The Deeps are near Darnley Island, an islet in one of the outer groups of the Torres Strait Islands, between Australia and New Guinea.

The Australian pearlling industry has been in operation for more than a century during which time an immense fortune has been recouped from the depths. The price paid for the treasure is better realized when you visit the cemetery on Thursday Island where the divers lie buried.

The industry supplies 80 per cent of the world's pearl shell. In recent years most of the shell has gone to the United States. Now, however, West Germany has become an important market. Exports last year were worth $1,500,000.

Darnley Deeps, 75 miles northwest of here, are now the magnet for the divers. In this underwater maze of jagged rocks the divers work season after season, for it is the richest pearl ground in the world — and also the most dangerous one.

From September to February the pearl divers admit defeat. Cross tides are too dangerous for the grounds to be worked.

At 25 fathoms in the Deeps a current can switch back against the main stream. A diver will find himself suddenly being swept back in the opposite direction. Instead of being towed slowly along beneath the lugger, he will find himself travelling ahead of it, with his life-line and air hose tangling with rudder and propeller.

All the Thursday Island luggers now are engine driven. They bring the shell back to the island where it is packed and graded by the pearl companies. Lugger crews range from 12 to 14 men, either Torres Strait islanders or Okinawans with a European captain.

Durward D. Dowden, president of The Second National Bank and member of the BancOhio Corporation Farm Promotion Committee, participated in the recent Fourth Annual BancOhio Farm School.

BancOhio Farm School is an agricultural training program dealing with problems related to the field of agricultural credit and farm management. The training program consisted of a series of meetings sponsored by the Department of Agricultural Economics of The Ohio State University in cooperation with BancOhio Corporation. Professors Ray Bailey and Lester Arnold, of the Department of Agricultural Economics, were the instructors for the series of meetings.

Seventeen representatives from sixteen Ohio communities served by BancOhio Corporation affiliated banks participated in the program, which began April 18, 1961. These meetings were held in Columbus for the purpose of assisting commercial bankers in keeping abreast with the rapidly changing problems in the fields of farm management and farm credit.

Boom in Steel Seen for May

10 Pct. Output Jump Is New Prediction

CLEVELAND (AP)—May steel production and shipments will be 10 per cent above last month's, Steel Magazine predicted today.

Market developments the metal working weekly cited that make the outlook bright are (1) seasonal upswing in steel consumption, (2) stepped-up auto output, and (3) an end to the steel inventory trimming that started a year ago.

Iron production this week is expected to exceed 1,810,000 tons. Steel estimates the industry purred this past week. Production has gained for seven straight weeks. Steel noted, with last week's output the highest in 11½ months.

"It's a safe bet that operations won't fall below this level in a nonholiday week before June 30, 1962, when the industry-USW labor contract expires," the publication said.

The market picture shows that many industries are buying. Steel said, pointing out product gains and the demand for quick shipments.

Production was up in all but two districts, with the biggest jumps in Youngstown, where ingot production was up 8 points to 78 (1957 average equals 100), and Cincinnati, up 11 points to 98. Production was up 4 points to 92 at Buffalo, 4 points to 95 at Cleveland, and 3 points to 116 in the western district.

Steel's price composite on No. 1 heavy melting dropped another $1.34 to $37.33 a gross ton, reflecting a continued scrap price decline.

The divers use a Morse code of tugs to communicate with the surface. Too long a wait between tugs means trouble. Another diver then is sent down over the side, but bringing an injured man back to surface from 200 feet down is no easy matter.

Changing pressures will make a diver die helplessly of an attack of the "bends" or paralysis. The sick diver has to be brought up in 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

A brief business meeting will be held, followed by a program and refreshments.

Gross Ohio Farm Income Shows Climb in 1960

Tax Receipt Collections Less in County

Pickaway County's prepaid tax receipts totalled $5,140.80 for the week ending April 15, a little less than the total of $5,795.65 for the corresponding week one year ago.

Motor vehicle sales tax collections in Pickaway County amounted to $3,511.87 for the week ending April 15, again considerably less than the corresponding week in 1960 which showed a total of $4,430.73.

Only seven of Ohio's 88 counties showed an increase in collections from the sale of prepaid tax receipts from July 1, 1960 through the first week of April, 1961, as compared to the same period a year ago, according to State Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson.

"Total collections for that period from all of Ohio's counties," said Ferguson, "amounted to $122,989,549. This represents a decrease of $5,463,579 or about 4.3 per cent, he stated.

Stonerock Wins

Pacific Tilt

Zanesville Takes
16-4 Trouncing

Stonerock's TV softball team buried Zanesville 16-4 in an exhibition game Sunday at Ted Lewis Park.

Leading the winners in their 13-hit barrage were Harold Gulick with a triple in two attempts and Jack McGuire, who stroked a double and a single in three trips to the plate. Davis, Turner and Placier also contributed two singles each to the Stonerock effort.

Rounding out the victor's attack were singles by Carl Gulick, Bob Glick, Leonard Rush and Harry Strawser.

Hitting for the Zanesville squad was confined to two hits, one a double, by Savage, and singles by Longsteth, Frick and Dollings.

ZANESVILLE took a quick 2-0 lead in the top of the first inning on Savage's two-bagger, but Stonerock's came back in their half to tally three runs. They added another trio in the bottom of the second and double markers in the fifth and seventh.

Zanesville retaliated with single counters in the fourth and seventh, but Stonerock's put the final verdict beyond doubt with a 6-run eighth-inning assault.

Absorbing the Stonerock pounding were a trio of Zanesville hurlers, Hardman, Frick and Savage, who yielded 12 free passes among them while striking out only three men.

Stonerock also employed a trio of moundsmen — Strawser, P. Neff and Reid — who issued but four walks while fanning 11 opponents.

Zanesville's Canteen registered the afternoon's only stolen base.

Tryout Dates Set for BR Loop Players

Tryouts for prospective Babe Ruth League players will start Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. at Ted Lewis Park with a session for all 13-year-olds.

Boys in the 14-year-old age bracket will be given trials Wednesday and 15-year-olds are slated for tryouts Thursday, also beginning at 4:30 p.m.

After last week's registration period resulted in a disappointingly small signup, league officials announced that any boy not previously registered may attend tryouts and sign up at that time.

In order to register, boys must furnish a birth certificate to verify their eligibility for loop play.

LEAGUE heads also noted that a minimum of five 13-year-olds must be included on the roster of each Babe Ruth major league squad, and said that there are a large number of player vacancies to be filled in this age group.

Players already on Babe Ruth teams do not have to re-register or try out again.

Any of the tryouts that are rained out on their scheduled day will be held Friday afternoon.

Beaver's Squad Cops Top Spot In Ladies Loop

The Marathon quintet turned in high singles and series scores of 662 and 1,927 in the final Ladies Thursday Afternoon league bowling at Circle D lanes, but finished the season in second place, 1½ points behind champion Beaver's Studio.

Penny Dietrich turned in high individual tallies of 173 and 460 for her last-place GE No 1 squad.

Shirley Holland converted 7-10 split, Norm Happeny a 5-10, Nancy Hamilton a 5-10, Betty Fausnaugh a 2-7, Jane Roby a 5-7 and Penny Dietrich a 3-10.

Annabelle Crosby, Ruth Walisa, Helen Lemley, Alma Slouffer and Anna Keaton, members of the Beaver team, will be honored at the league's annual banquet election night May 13 at 8 p.m. at the Continental Restaurant.

Rain threatened but did not halt a successful Harness Matinee yesterday at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Driver Jim Mace, rapidly establishing himself as a top notch cabbie, brought home four winners in the eight - dash event. Forrest Short, another popular driver, finished with two firsts.

Frank Mace, a brother of Jim, crossed the wire first in one race and Bob Swank driving in his first race, was the other single winner.

Approximately 1,000 fans were in the grandstand, along the rail and in cars where it was warmer to greet the official Pickaway harness opener.

MACE wrapped up additional honors by bringing Just Mae across the finish line in both heats of one of the classified paces for the best times of the day. Just Mae,

Short, behind Irish Blackstone, took first in the opening heat of a classified pace. Swank, driving Jerry H., earned the honor in the other heat.

Irish Blackstone went the route in 2:17 1-5 and Jerry H. in 2:14. Irish Blackstone is owned by Neil Hefflich of Washington C. H. and Jerry H. by Mrs. Anna Helvering of Circleville.

Raider Volo, with Short at the reins, was the eighth heat winner in the classified trot. Owned by Ed Woolam of Worthington, the Raider hit the finish at 2:22.

FRANK Mace earned his trophy by guiding Mark's Jerry to the wire in 2:20 2-5 in the heat 4 2-year-old pace. Frank and Fred Mace own the winner.

Early afternoon rain made an attempt to halt the races, but the horsemen were determined not to disappoint an enthusiastic crowd.

The annual Matinee was sponsored by the Pickaway County Agriculture Society and area horsemen. Proceeds will be used for extension of the chain link fence at the track.

Marg Black Tops Prairie Chicks

Margie Black topped individual scoring in the latest Prairie Chicks league bowling at Prairie Lanes with a singles mark of 193 and series total of 507.

The Wells Restaurant quintet came off with team honors in both singles and series on scores of 733 and 2,047.

Purkey Puts Reds Back on Victory List

CINCINNATI (AP)—It took the Cincinnati Reds' nearest thing to an "old reliable," Bob Purkey, to break the losing spell that plagued them for eight games.

His six-hit pitching paced Cincinnati's 4-2 victory in the second game of a doubleheader, after Pittsburgh's high-flying Pirates had won the opener, 6-3.

The veteran right-hander also had to chip in at the plate for the Reds, who haven't been getting many hits lately. His three key bunts figured in all their scoring.

The spotlight has been on the Reds' young pitchers, but Purkey has half the club's six victories.

After a first inning slipup, when Bill Virdon doubled and Dick Groat singled him in, Purkey worked through the lineup with little difficulty. Only one Pirate reached base from then until the eighth. Then Purkey's only walk, with hits by Don Hoak and Bill Virdon, scored the Pirates' other marker.

Cincinnati scored in the third, when Jerry Zimmerman walked, Purkey sacrificed, and Chico Cardenas hit his run-making single.

The same thing happened in the seventh after Zimmerman singled.

And in the fifth, after Gordie Coleman walked and Zimmerman singled, Purkey put down a perfect safe bunt that scored a run. Cardenas slammed a double that put Purkey on third, ready to score on Don Blasingame's sacrifice foul.

Palmer Pockets Another Purse

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Arnold Palmer returned to his role of golf's great clutch player, became the year's top tournament winner and closed in on young Gary Player in the race for the most money as he bagged the Texas Open.

With a dramatic finish, which saw Palmer come through with an eagle on one of the closing holes, the big-shouldered man from Pennsylvania shot a 3-under-par 68 for the 72-hole total of 279 and a one-stroke victory in the storied Texas Open Sunday. It was a repeat with the championship and Palmers fourth tournament triumph of the year.

Gary Player of Johannesburg, South Africa, the leading money-winner and a three-tournament winner, tied for fourteenth place with 277 and won only $651.00. Player closed with a 74 as his putting went sour.

So now Player has won $47,068—54 in 15 tournaments while Palmer has taken down $39,886.58 in 14.

Twenty-one winners of the Preakness have sired 86 winners of $100,000 or more.

Willie May's 4 Home Runs Help Giants Set Records

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Willie May clouted four home runs, a feat accomplished by only eight others in a single game, to lead the San Francisco Giants to a 14-4 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers Sunday.

The Giants either set or tied other records by smashing eight home runs as they regained first place in the National League pennant race. Milwaukee's Henry Aaron hit two homers to enable the two teams to establish a league mark of 10 homers. San Francisco added another slugging record with a spine chilling two-day total of 13 homers. The Giants hit five in Saturday's 7-3 victory over the Braves.

Pittsburgh held to a split by Cincinnati, dropped into second place. The Pirates lost the second game 4-2 after winning the opener 6-3. Los Angeles nipped Chicago 2-1 on Tommy Davis two-run homer in the ninth inning but the Indians came back with a seven-run second inning to win the nightcap 10-5. Philadelphia spotted St. Louis a 6-2 lead, then roared back with seven runs in the eighth and four in the 10th to win 11-7.

Mays put on a tremendous show for the 13,114 Milwaukee spectators. Probably the most interested was Joe Adcock, the slugging first baseman. Big Joe was the last National Leaguer to hammer four out of the park in one day. He did it July 31, 1954, in Ebbets Field, Brooklyn.

Willie, who had hit only two homers prior to Sunday's fireworks, greeted Milwaukee starter Lew Burdette with a four-bagger in the first inning. There was no one on base. Mays tagged Burdette again in the third with one aboard. Southpaw Seth Morehead was pitching in the sixth when Mays pounded his third Homer with two on. Willie got his fourth Homer in the eighth, off right-hander Don McLean, with one mate aboard. That gave him a total of eight runs batted in for the day, four behind the record of 12 set by Sunny Jim Bottomley of the 1924 Cardinals.

Billy Loes was the winner. He went all the way, giving up eight hits for his second victory. Aaron drove in all four Milwaukee runs.

The Cubs shook off a tough 2-1 opening game loss to the Dodgers on Tommy Davis two-run Homer in the ninth, scoring seven runs in the second inning of the nightcap for a split in their double-header. Chicago reached Dodger starter Roger Craig for five hits in that riotous ninth. Billy Williams, Al Heist, Dick Bertell and winning pitcher Bob Anderson singled and Don Zimmer chased Craig with a double.

The Phillies spotted the Cardinals a 6-0 lead but rallied for seven runs in the eighth and four in the 10th to win their second straight from St. Louis. Johnny Callison, Tony Taylor and Pancho Herrera, who rapped seven hits and drove in eight runs among them, knocked in the 10th inning tallies.

Detroit's Tigers opened up a full game lead over the Yankees in the American League pennant race although held to a split in their doubleheader with Baltimore Sunday.

Chicago's White Sox defeated Minnesota 5-3 in 11 innings for the Twins' third straight loss. The Tigers won the opener 8-2 with Baltimore taking the second game 4-2.

New York's Yankees moved into second place by dividing a pair with Washington. The Yankees won the opener 4-3 and lost the second game 2-1. Cleveland and Boston also split a pair, the Indians taking the second game 10-1 after Boston had copped the first.

Los Angeles ran its winning streak to three in a row, winning the first game from Kansas City

Derby Trial May Provide Tell-Tale Tip

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A baker's dozen are expected to go to the post Tuesday in the Derby Trial Stakes, the last racing test for Kentucky Derby eligibles.

The one-mile dash, in which the seven are expected, should produce at least three or four starters for next Saturday's $125,000, added derby, the first triple crown field, Brooklyn.

An even dozen Derby probables have not scheduled any more racing before the big one so, barring any mishaps, they figure to be sure Derby starters.

Likely to go in the trial are Four-And-Twenty, Crozier, Dr. Miller, Star X., Injun, He's A Pistol and Gay's Pal.

Not to be raced before the run for the roses are Ambipoise, Carri Back, Globemaster, Glitterby, Ronnie's Ace, Light Talk, Sherruck, Loyal Son, Jay Fox, Dearborn, Bass Clef and On His Metal.

Missing from both lists is Harbor View Farm's Garvol, whose last place finish in Saturday's Stepping Stone Purse at Churchill Downs against a field of Derby eligibles disappointed his trainer, Burley Parke.

Parke said he would ship the colt to New York early this week and planned to have him gelded in an effort to improve his disposition.

CLEVELAND—Outfielder Jackie Jensen left Boston Red Sox team without explanation; reported en route home to Crystal Bay, Nev.

GOLF

SAN ANTONIO—Arnold Palmer came from behind with a 68 on last round and won Texas Open with 72-hole total of 270.

AUGUSTA, Ga.—Mickey Wright won Women's Titleholders Tournament with a 299 score, beating Louise Suggs and Patty Berg by one stroke.

Hawkins handcuffed the Red Sox in the nightcap with a five-hitter, walking two and striking out five as the Indians backed him with 14 hits for a 10-1 triumph. Included in the offensive flurry were Tito Francona's three hits, climax'd by a three-run Homer, and a round-tripper by John Romano. Johnny Temple stretched his hitting skein through all 16 games with two hits in the opener and a last-ditch double in the nightcap.

White Sox snapped a 2-2 tie in the top of the 11th to hand the Twins their third straight defeat. After Jim Landis broke tie with a run-scoring double, Roy Sivers clouted a two-run Homer. This proved the clincher as the Twins came back with a run in their half.

Pinch hitter Leon Wagner hit a two-run Homer for the Angels in the seventh, giving the Angels their third straight triumph in the opener. Rookie southpaw Jim Archer won his first major league game for the A's in the second game although he needed help from Dave Wickersham in the ninth. Rookie shortstop Dick Howser drove in what proved to be the winning run with a single in the top of the ninth.

The meeting will be held at the high school social rooms. The public is invited.

Granges Schedule

Play Contest

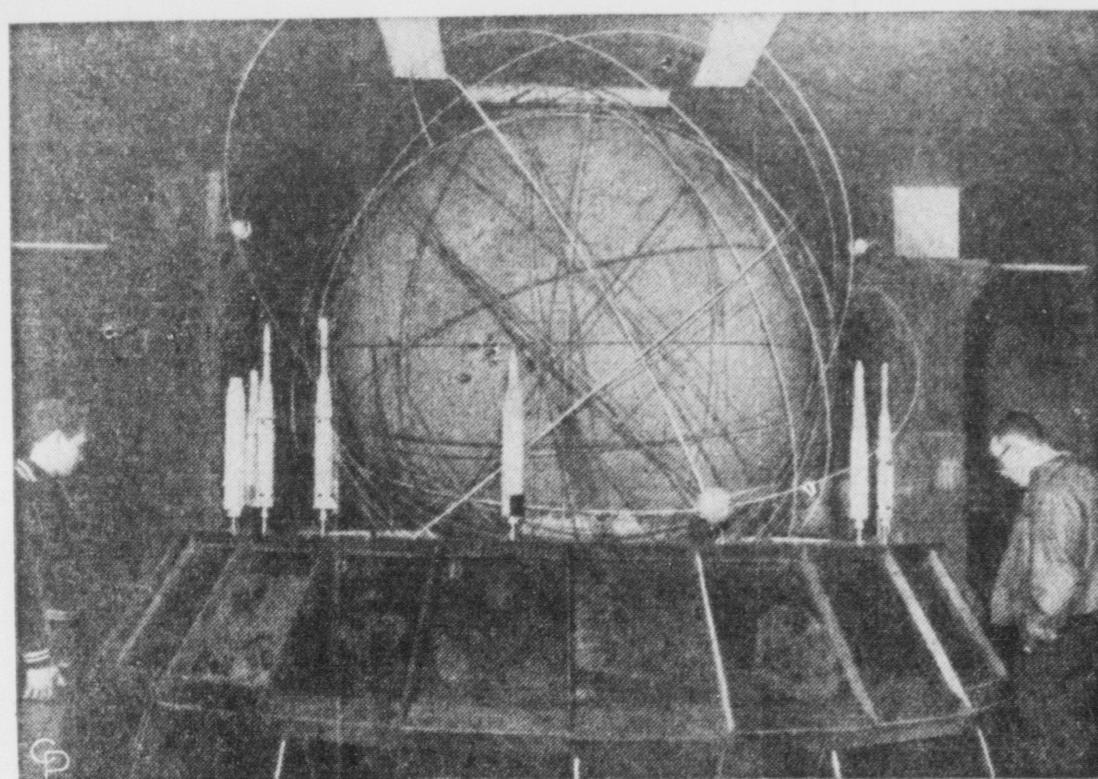

Four subordinate granges will compete in a one act play contest at 8 p.m., Thursday, in the Monroe Twp. School auditorium.

The granges and playlets are of the following: Star Grange, "Dona Dumb the Census Taker"; Nebraska Grange, "Paging Mr. Tweedy"; Washington Grange, "Shock of His Life"; Scioto Grange, "Quiet Home Wedding".

"One Happy Family" will be presented by the youth group.

The subordinate winner, along with the youth group play, will participate in the district competition at Mowrytown, June 13.

The majestic bald eagle, far from being bald, has a handsome head coating of white feathers. Its name may come from the word piebald or from an old definition of bald as white or white streaked.

SPACE IS GETTING CROWDED—Costing $12,000 and on exhibit at Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland, this globe shows how crowded outer space is getting around Earth. The spaghetti-like lines show the paths of the 46 space vehicles now in orbit.

Pickaway Scouts To Hold Annual Meeting Thursday

More than 400 Pickaway County Cub, Boy and Explorer Scouts, their advisers and district scouting officials will meet Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in the Lutheran Church for the annual Pickaway District Scout Assembly.

Toastmaster for the evening will be Judge Guy Cline, District vice chairman and head of the banquet's program committee.

After dinner Cline will introduce various guests and then turn the program over to Vernon Saunders, retiring district commissioner, who will make a annual report on Pickaway scouting activities.

Saunders' summary notes that the district commissioners made 126 visits to scout units in 1960 and conducted 10 roundtable discussions on general scouting plans which attracted 524 persons.

Saunders' report also commends the scouts for distribution of more than 4,000 "Get Out the Vote" pamphlets during 1960 elections. He also cited their efforts to acquaint the general public with scouting activities through open programs and distribution of 3,000 Scout Program Guides.

REPORTS from district operating committees will disclose that 299 advancement awards were presented in 1960 and that 169 Cub Scouts were promoted along with 19 Boy Scouts. A total of 111 merit badges were given during the year.

At the end of 1960, records show 91.2 per cent of all district scouts held subscriptions to Boys' Life magazine, an official scouting publication. For the fifth consecutive year the Pickaway District percentage has been the highest in scout Region No. 4, which encompasses all of Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky.

The committee on leadership training report shows that two Cub basic courses, nine additional Cub courses, one Scout basic course, six Additional Scout courses and one Adult Scout camping course were given in 1960. The year end figures show that 88 per cent of Pickaway scout leaders have received instruction qualifying them for their positions.

Members of the health and safety committee inspected all camp sites and meeting quarters used by district scouts in 1960, and, through the cooperation of Win Story, again supervised the scouts' operation of automobile safety-check lanes in Circleville and surrounding communities.

The district added two new Cub packs — No. 155, Ashville, and No. 320, Derby — During the year and recorded a 28 per cent membership increase over 1959.

FINANCE committee reports show that the Pickaway District will receive $4,500 from the Pick-away County Community Chest fund for 1961 operations.

Unit activities reports for 1960 will be presented by adult leaders of each of the 14 scout organizations in the district.

Leader's training awards will be presented by Joe Bell, M. E. Sensenbrenner will install Ed Ebert as district commissioner for 1961-62 at the close of the meeting. Ebert held the post previously.

Commissioners for the district are Ebert, Vernon Saunders, Frank Wirth, Charles Holbom, Dolph Remy and Marshall Winer.

Ohio Youths Offer List Of Proposals

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—After three days practicing practical politics, the 380 youthful members of Ohio's tenth annual Model Legislature returned to school and more conventional educational processes.

The YMCA-sponsored event adjourned Sunday in the state capital.

In their three days in the capital, the model legislators figuratively abolished capital punishment, which Youth Gov. James V. DeMarco of Marietta called morally wrong, and enacted the following other laws:

They placed all county sheriffs under the jurisdiction of the State Highway Patrol.

They approved a bill that would permit use of license fee refunds for construction of drag strips.

They made the installation of safety belts in all new cars compulsory.

In other bills dealing with highway safety, they called for the installation of safety glass in all windows in new cars, the marking of tires that had been retreaded or recapped and the annual inspection of all motor vehicles.

They repealed Ohio's blue laws.

Concerning the sale of intoxicating beverages to minors, they said the minor should be prosecuted as well as the adults involved.

In the field of education, they provided for state-supported junior colleges and for accelerated classes for superior students.

They established a county equalization fund based on a public utility tax that supposedly would make available millions of additional dollars for education without increasing taxes.

Commissioners for the district are Ebert, Vernon Saunders, Frank Wirth, Charles Holbom, Dolph Remy and Marshall Winer.

Members of the district committee include Dick Compton, Merle Thomas, Gary Winner, Earl Liff, Charles Brackett, Emmett Hinton, Harry Diehl, Emerson Cline, Wayne Griffith, Ken Luna, Jim Greenwood and Charles Sheppard.

The Monroe Twp. property is owned by Clarence L. Corkwell, Edward L. Corkwell, and Eliza Crookwell Heil, all of Columbus.

E. S. Preston, director of highways, states in the petition that the department was unable to purchase the property needed in the construction and improvement of Route 56 in Monroe Twp., and has found it necessary to take action against the owners for the appropriation of the property.

Scoutmasters include:

Troop No. 155, Dave Amos; No. 159, Emerson Cline; No. 170, Clark Martin; No. 179, (vacancy); No. 205, Gene Dowler; No. 320, Lowell Anderson; No. 323, Bill Huffman.

Explorer Scout leaders are Post No. 3, Dick Compton; No. 4, Merle Thomas; No. 84, Emmett Hinton.

Telegrams Tie Nazi to Killings

Eichmann's Attorney Disputes Message

JERUSALEM (AP)—Two telegrams, signed by Adolf Eichmann and ordering the execution of specific groups of Jews, were put in evidence today by the prosecution in an effort to link him directly with the wartime exterminations.

Eichmann's attorney, Dr. Robert Servatius, promptly disputed the messages.

Earlier a spectator in the gallery burst into hysterical tears and shouted, "Where is my family? Kill! Kill!"

Police hustled the man outside. He said he was Zvi Scheffer, 46, Hungarian-born, and that he broke down when a witness described a Nazi deportation train on which members of Scheffer's own family were taken away.

He told reporters that only four members of his family, out of 62, survived the Nazi holocaust.

"I only wanted to hit him (Eichmann) once," Scheffer told police, "Why don't they kill him? What are they doing?"

Then Attorney General Gideon Hausner submitted for evidence the two telegrams. He said both were signed by Eichmann. Both were labelled "special treatment of the Jews." The Jews were identified by name-four in one case seven in another—and the messages ordered that they be hanged "in the presence of members of their race."

Eichmann has denied that he ever ordered the killing of a single Jew.

The telegrams were dated March 27, 1942, and May 6, 1942. "I demand a report of this execution," the messages read.

Servatius challenged the telegrams on the ground that Eichmann had only relayed orders from Heinrich Himmler, top man in the Gestapo.

Lurking in the waters of the Great Barrier Reef, off Australia, are 100 species of shark. Eight are man-eaters.

"WATCH ME KILL 'EM"—Spade Cooley, "The King of Western Swing" in the 1950's, listens from wheelchair in Bakersfield, Calif., court as his 14-year-old daughter Melody (right) tells a coroner's inquest that "He turned to me again and said, 'You're going to watch me kill her, Melody.' That was when Mrs. Ella Mae Cooley, 37, was found beaten to death. Cooley, attended by a nurse, is recovering from a heart attack.
